To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to write this personal letter of recommendation for Kevin Field. I have worked with Kevin over the past several years, both on client projects and in business development efforts. The work that I have observed was always of the highest quality.

Kevin has shown himself to be a dedicated and hard working professional who has made important contributions to our clients' success and to our firm. He is a self-starter and always willing to learn new things. He has very strong knowledge of insurance operations and the important technologies to support those operations. I have also observed the personal sacrifices he made during his tenure to ensure the project's timely and successful delivery. Clients have sought me out to communicate the fine job Kevin had done for them, and I am very proud to have professionals like Kevin on staff.

It was a pleasure working with Kevin and I wish him continued success in his future career endeavors. I would also be happy to discuss Kevin's qualifications by phone and can be reached at (203) 708-4191.

Sincerely,

Michael F. LaPorta
